Materials:

Welcome! – Please make sure you have a METRONOME (The ‘Truth’),
WORKBOOK (for assignments) and STAFF PAPER NOTEBOOK.

General Requirements & Objectives:

In order to gain as much information as possible from this class, attendance is mandatory. As with any class or ensemble, if you know of an absence in advance, directors and teachers need to be notified. There will be numerous quizzes to check on information retention daily. In order to receive credit, communication of absence 24 hours in advance is required. Class meets at 10:10am on Tuesday and Thursday.

For the people who have no experience with jazz or improvisation, this class is here to HELP, not embarrass you. Understand that we are all in this for the sole reason of learning more about music and teaching AND becoming a better player, musician and educator. IF YOU HAVE QUESTIONS, PLEASE ASK!!

Grading:

- 15% - Attendance (.5 point per class)
- 10% - Artist Trivia/Facts (2-3 facts about Artist of the Week)
- 10% - Standards Trivia/Facts (2-3 facts about Tune of the Week)
- 10% - Total Transcription
- 10% - Piano Tests
- 20% - Playing Tests
- 10% - Final
- 10% - Homework & Assignments
- 5% - Effort, class contributions, clinic and guest artist attendance, etc.

Office Hours: If you need to get in touch with me, please feel free to come by at any time I am in my office or set up an appointment.

Academic Honesty: All students must practice academic honesty. Academic misconduct is subject to an academic penalty by the course instructor and/or disciplinary sanction by the University of Montana. All Students need to be familiar with the Student Conduct Code. The Code is available for review online at www.umd.edu/SA/VP/SA/Index.cfm/page/1321.

NASM STANDARDS

1. Performance

Students must acquire:

- a. Technical skills requisite for artistic self-expression in at least one major performance area at a level appropriate for the particular music concentration.
- b. An overview understanding of the repertory in their major performance area and the ability to perform from a cross-section of that repertory.
- c. The ability to read at sight with fluency.
- d. Knowledge and skills sufficient to work as a leader and in collaboration on matters of musical interpretation. Rehearsal and conducting skills are required as appropriate to the particular music concentration
- e. Keyboard competency. Experiences in secondary performance areas are recommended.
- f. Growth in artistry, technical skills, collaborative competence and knowledge of repertory through regular ensemble experiences. Ensembles should be varied both in size and nature.

2. Aural Skills and Analysis

Students must acquire:

- a. An understanding of the common elements and organizational patterns of music and their interaction, and the ability to employ this understanding in aural, verbal, and visual analyses.
- b. Sufficient understanding of musical forms, processes and structures to use this knowledge in compositional, performance, scholarly, pedagogical and historical contexts, according to the requisites of their specializations.
- c. The ability to place music in historical, cultural and stylistic contexts.

3. Composition and Improvisation

Students must acquire:

- a. Rudimentary capacity to create derivative or original music both extemporaneously and in written form.
- b. The ability to compose, improvise, or both at a basic level in one or more musical languages, for example, the imitation of various musical styles, improvisation on pre-existing materials, the creation of original compositions, experimentation with various sound sources, and manipulating the common elements in non-traditional ways.

4. Repertory and History

Students must acquire:

- a. A basic Knowledge of music history through the present time.
- b. An acquaintance with repertories beyond the area of specialization. All students must be exposed to a large and varied body of music through study and attendance at recitals, concerts, opera and musical theatre productions and other performances. With regard to specific content, music has a long history, many repertories, and multiple connections with cultures. Content in and study of these areas are vast and growing. Each institution is responsible for choosing from among this material when establishing basic requirements. Each is responsible for breadth and depth, and for setting proportions between them. Content choices and emphases, as well as means for developing competency, reflect institutional mission, areas of concentration offered, and the goals of the music unit.

5. Technology

Students must acquire:

- a. A basic overview understanding of how technology serves the field of music as a whole.
- b. Working knowledge of the technological developments applicable to their area of specialization.

6. Synthesis

While synthesis is a lifetime process, by the end of undergraduate study students should be:

- a. Working independently on a variety of musical problems by combining their capabilities in performance, aural, verbal and visual analysis; composition and improvisation; and repertory and history.
- b. Forming and defending value judgments about music.
- c. Acquiring the tools to work with a comprehensive repertory, including music from various cultures of the world and music of their own time.
- d. Understanding basic interrelationships and interdependencies among the various professions and activities that constitute the musical enterprise.

Student and Staff Responsibilities

To achieve the standards and competencies listed above, both students and staff must meet certain responsibilities as delineated below:

Student Responsibilities

1. To develop musical literacy and maturity, through diligent development of physical skills and intellectual awareness;
2. To meet standards consistent with those prescribed by NASM and the U of M music faculty.
3. To discipline one's self to accomplish the many necessary tasks in order to achieve excellence.
4. To become dedicated to the art. The study of music is demanding but also extremely rewarding.

Staff Responsibilities:

1. To provide a curriculum (course of study) which will prepare students for a career in music.
2. To guide students' musical growth (understanding, skill, awareness, creativity) through high professional teaching standards within the framework of the most complete curriculum possible.
3. To professionally contribute to maintaining high musical standards through musical leadership in the state and area.
